CHEAP GAS FROM THE EDITOR

With our last issue of "The Trumpet" we were "on the way!" Now, we can confidently claim to be here. Several meetings have been held, various jobs and responsibilities have been distributed, our first event came off with rich local Tr support (more on that next issue), and we gain increasing recognition in the form of invitations to local events.

In order to continue as a club, we must make an effort to discover and to meet the needs of local Tr owners. Expression of our ideas and a willingness to accept and to give criticism is vital to our clubs existence. Feel free to send any suggestions, letters, or articles for our club or for our newsletter to Stan Goodman, 3828 Armour Ave., # 1, Columbus 31904. Please send all complaints to Mike Elder, 6245A Mission La., Norcross.

Subsequent issues of "The Trumpet" will include a calendar of events, a summary of our last meeting, and for sale/wanted listings. In addition to those, we plan several columns: a technical column, car-book reviews, and series of articles on subjects of interest. Naturally, we will cover Tr events.

If readers will send in or mention technical questions to me, we will research and prepare careful answers for the column. If no one bothers to ask or to suggest, we will write irrelevant, dull technical columns on things we know nothing about. Regarding book reviews, logic tells me that one person does not, on the average, read as many books as ten or twelve people do; please help out the book reviewer.

With only small, but consistent participation from a large group of people, this Tr club can be a benefit and a pleasure to us all.
